

"I heard Jason speak for the first time in Copenhagen in 2003 where my Danish colleagues had engaged him as key note presenter. He was so fantastic, that I had to bring him to Norway. Jason was a huge success! Because of all the research that is behind the findings and facts that Jason present, you really respect the content of his presentation.

When you add his humor and fantastic way of presenting, you get a true professional, world class key note speech. He fills the room with his positive energy and gives 120% of himself to the audience. Jason has such a fantastic way of seeing and recognizing everybody, making people feel that they matter."

Gunilla Resare
SAS Institute
Norway

